

Asarco and Cyprus Amax Improve Terms of Combination and Invite Phelps Dodge to Negotiate Improved Deal

Announce Payment To Shareholders of $5.00 Per Share Upon Closing of Two-Way Combination

Denver, CO and New York, NY, August 25, 1999 - Cyprus Amax Minerals Company (NYSE: CYM) and ASARCO Incorporated (NYSE: AR) today jointly announced that they have improved the terms of their own combination transaction. In addition they have written to Phelps Dodge outlining their willingness to negotiate with Phelps Dodge on terms included in the letter. According to the letter, Asarco and Cyprus Amax would be willing to proceed with a three-way combination with Phelps Dodge if its proposed exchange ratios are increased, if Phelps Dodge fully underwrites the risk of antitrust problems with its proposal and if the contract terms mirror those of the Asarco/Cyprus contract. Asarco and Cyprus Amax said the exchange ratios they would require were .5300 of a Phelps Dodge share for Asarco holders and .4055 of a Phelps Dodge share for Cyprus Amax holders. The letter to Phelps Dodge is attached.

The two companies also said they have decided to improve the financial terms of their own combination by including a special payment of $5.00 per share to the stockholders of the combined Asarco Cyprus Incorporated. The special payment would be paid to stockholders as soon as possible after consummation of the merger. Asarco and Cyprus Amax emphasized that they were proceeding with their two-way combination which, subject to stockholder approval, will close on September 30, 1999.

Speaking together, Milton H. Ward, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Cyprus Amax and Francis R. McAllister, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Asarco said "Our response to Phelps Dodge evidences our intent to secure the best value for our shareholders whether through a three way combination including Phelps Dodge or through consummation of the merger previously announced. We have presented very simple terms to Phelps Dodge which we believe recognize the contributions our two companies make to a three way combination. The proposal previously communicated by Phelps Dodge fails to reward our stockholders for the values derived from the Asarco Cyprus transaction. Our proposed exchange ratio gives recognition to the fact that our shareholders would be contributing approximately 50% of the value of a three way combination.

“We intend to move forward to complete our own merger transaction as soon as possible and as a sign of confidence of our ability to achieve cost reductions of at least $200 million annually, Asarco Cyprus will make a special payment to shareholders when the merger closes. This special $5.00 per share payment reflects the Boards’ and managements’ confidence in their ability to deliver benefits from the merger. Asarco Cyprus is expected to have in excess of $1 billion in cash at the time of closing and the Boards of both companies have agreed that Asarco Cyprus will pursue the sale of Cyprus Amax’s investments in Kinross Gold and its Australian coal holdings and Asarco’s specialty chemicals business. We would expect the sales to be completed within six months after closing. Proceeds are expected to approach $1 billion and cash taxes would be minimized due to tax benefits from the sale of the Kinross shares. Proceeds would be used to pay down debt and improve the liquidity of the company.”

Messrs. Ward and McAllister stated that they and their respective Boards are committed to maximizing shareholder value and will continue to do so after the merger is completed. In order to ensure that Phelps Dodge or any interested buyer is able to present a bona fide proposal to acquire 100% of the stock of the Company, during the first 90 days following completion of the merger, stockholders will have the right to call a meeting to redeem the rights plan. In addition, change in control provisions in any employment contracts entered into by the Company will be waived for that same 90 day period.

Actual results may vary materially from any forward-looking statement the Company makes. Refer to the Cautionary Statement and Risk Factors contained in Cyprus Amax’s and Asarco’s 1998 Form 10Ks.

Dear Doug:

We and our respective boards have considered your revised proposal to acquire our companies. We have the following issues with your proposal:

1. The exchange ratios proposed in your August 20 press release do not allocate to Cyprus Amax and Asarco holders a fair share of the value created by uniting their two companies. We are prepared to negotiate a transaction with Phelps Dodge that would provide our holders with .4055 shares of Phelps Dodge common stock for each Cyprus Amax share, and .5300 Phelps Dodge shares for each Asarco share.
2. In order for us to proceed with Phelps Dodge, you must make clear that Phelps Dodge will undertake all actions necessary to secure regulatory approval for your proposed transaction including any divestiture or similar action required, and will provide credible assurances that such regulatory approval will be forthcoming. The statements in your letters concerning antitrust issues are not sufficient on this point.
3. You have not proposed a form of contract for your transaction. We would be prepared to proceed on the basis of representations, warranties and covenants made by Cyprus Amax and Asarco to each other in their merger agreement, with similar representations, warranties and covenants made by Phelps Dodge.
4. Your letter did not indicate whether your proposal was subject to due diligence. A due diligence requirement introduces substantial uncertainty as to your proposal. We would expect, as part of our effort to close our pending merger or any potential transaction with you as quickly as possible, that you would not require any further due diligence with respect to either Cyprus Amax or Asarco.

We strongly believe that the combination of Cyprus Amax and Asarco, without the effect of combining further with Phelps Dodge, provides greater value to Cyprus Amax and Asarco holders than your August 20 proposal, poses fewer regulatory issues and can be completed more quickly. Accordingly, we will be proceeding to present that transaction to our stockholders and to closing on September 30, 1999. We are prepared, however, to negotiate a transaction that involves all three companies that satisfies all the foregoing requirements. For your information, we are attaching to this letter a copy of the press release Asarco and Cyprus Amax issued today concerning our response to Phelps Dodge. We also want to advise you that apart from this communication, neither party has waived any of its legal or other rights, or rights or obligations under our merger agreement.

Sincerely,

Francis R. McAllister
